invites you to register your interest in attending a free workshop

Working Together: Journey Towards Cultural Competence

This two-day workshop has been specially designed to provide non-Indigenous mental health practitioners with the skills, knowledge and attitudes to work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

The workshop will be facilitated by two Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander psychologists and aims to close the gap in social and emotional wellbeing and mental health outcomes between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Indigenous Australians.

This is a free workshop and places are limited.

Please register your interest now and you will receive confirmation of your place 10 days prior to the workshop selected. Priority will be given to non-Indigenous mental health practitioners providing services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

100% of participants (psychiatrists, doctors, mental health nurses, psychologists, social workers, welfare workers) who have completed this workshop have said they would recommend it to others.
