proudly hosts the

Trans-Tasman Community Psychology Biennial Conference 2012:

Poverty and Inequality

at

Tapu Te Ranga Marae, Island Bay, Wellington

Wednesday evening 18th April and Thursday 19th April 2012

Keynote speakers

Katie Thomas - University of Western Australia on Australian Aristocracy: The vulture rises from the ashes

Charles Waldegrave and Peter King - The Family Centre on Community participation in measuring poverty and inequality.

Also featuring a political panel of Metira Turei (Greens), Hone Harawira (Mana) and Nanaia Mahuta (Labour)

And paper presentations from researchers and activist from Barnardos, Victoria University of Technology (Melbourne), University of Waikato, Australian Institute of Psychology, Poverty Action Waikato, School of Psychology Massey, Te Ropu Whariki Massey

The Tapu Te Ranga Marae, (<http://www.taputeranga.maori.nz/>) 44 Rhine Street Island Bay, Wellington, is an urban living marae 10 minutes drive from Wellington City or Airport. Accommodation, meals, and meeting spaces are provided. Having our conference at Tapu Te Ranga Marae will give us a unique opportunity to share with the people of the marae, the whenua or land, the spectacular South Coast line and of course with each other.

*This conference immediately precedes the NZPsS & NZCCP Joint Conference Tutahitanga - Standing Together as One which is being held at the Wellington Convention Centre with workshops on Friday 20th and Conference from 21st -23rd April 2012.
