

INFORMATION SESSION

7TH JUNE 2017

6 – 7 pm

The MIECAT Institute
15 – 17 Victoria Street Fitzroy

This research is being carried out by senior psychologist, Bernadette Healy MAPS.

Bernadette has over fifteen years' experience in private practice and over the past 8 years has become known for particular expertise working with members of the legal profession. This work was recognized in the Australian Psychological Society (APS) Workplace Excellence Awards 2015.

Bernadette has a Masters in Creative Arts Therapies and has been incorporating creative methodologies into her practice for over ten years.

Bernadette also has extensive experience in the not for profit and tertiary education sectors and is a highly experienced group facilitator.

Psychologists wanted for research study on new and creative approach to reflective practice.

- Are you interested in exploring moments from your professional life as a psychologist?
- Are you interested in trying somatic-focused and creative methodologies?
- Is the idea of participating within a small group of psychologist peers appealing? (Participation may qualify for CPD)
- Would you like to potentially learn a new technique for your practice?

Participants are needed for an experiential arts-based research enquiry which will explore the use of creative arts practices as a method of reflecting on professional practice. Moments of interest from the professional domain of individual participants will be explored using a range of arts-based practices. The researcher, Bernadette Healy, will facilitate this process within a small group context.

This study is being conducted through the MIECAT Professional Doctorate program. The director of MIECAT, Dr Jan Allen, is the supervisor.

Participation in this research involves a commitment of 2.5 hours on each of 4 Wednesdays: 14/06/17; 28/6/17; 12/7/17; and 26/7/17 from 6-8.30pm

Attendance at the information session is necessary for participation in the study.

Please RSVP your interest to Bernadette on
M: 0417 351 677 or
Email: bhealy@revisiongroup.com.au